In case a man receives intoxicating drinks at a saloon, and goes away and does injury to person, or to property, the saloon-keeper is not only held liable for all the damage, but the person from whom he rents his saloon can also be held. If a saloon-keeper is convicted of selling liquors, his lease of any place where it was sold is declared forfeited, although he may have just come into possession. Therefore, in one bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medicinal virtue as will be found in several gellons of ordinary mixtures. The Roots, etc., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, where they are compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others; no desire for st-mulants can be induced from their use, can make no drunkards, and cannot, under ircumstances, have any out a beneficial effect.

CONSUMPTION Its Cure and Its Preventive BY J. H. SCHENCK, M.D.

Many a human being has passed away for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of ours. Those near and dear to family and friends are alseying the draumless slumber into which, had they cambly adopted.

DR. JOSEPH H. SCHENCR'S SIMPLE and availed themselves of his wonderfully effica-cious medicines, they would not have fallen. Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vital-ity, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor. In this statement there is nothing presump-tious. To the fath of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times sub-stantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy re-quires no argument. It is solf-assuring, self-con-vincing.

quires no argument. Vincing.

The Sea-weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the maisdy is assailed. Two thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsis and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathise" with the atomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms of CONSUMPTION. The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Na-ture's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatom. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but, unlike calomel, they "LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitin-ted and nuccous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpid-ity. The stomach nots responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is gotting, at last, A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Scawced Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digastion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man, schenek's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to lasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature can not be cheated, it collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs, in the form of gatherings, it prepares them for expectoration, and lot in a very short time the mailady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room a util they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure can not be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country, in the fail and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course keet their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The satients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despuir of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst case, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Its Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

—Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then, like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon repend the matter in my lungs, and it would apit up more than a pint of offensive and a soon as that recent to stabends in yordigh. GIVEN UP AS LOST.

They saon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive "As soon as that occan to subside, my cough fever pains, and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetic became as great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in feeb ever since.

I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the bodoor, "then looking like a mere skeleton, my weight was only ninery seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (25) pounds and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, br. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9.2 M. to 5.5 M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirementer will be charged 55. The Respirement of the looking the whether they are carable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Foladapted to the intelligence even of a chial. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Phile are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompany than the ample instructions that accompany them; First create appetite. Of returning health, hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, not it will come, let the desparing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a larative or purcative, the Mandrake Phile are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylacteric against consumption in any of its lorms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Ses-weed Tonic, $1,50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half doson. Man-drake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all drug-sists and dealers.
